CENTRAL COLLEGE,
215—Calle del Peru—215.
Mr. WERNICKE.

The educational establishment well known among natives and foreign residents of Buenos Ayres and the Provinces, was opened in the year 1855, and is always alive through the incessant care and attention of the Director and his well known professors, to give the standard of education to the pupils confided to their management.

The branches most carefully taught are French, English, German, and Arithmetic, and a particular care is given to a good hand writing and grammar.

The pupils find everything for their comfort—in the play-yard are every kind of gymnastic apparatus.

MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY OF THE DAY.
To Sheep-farmers and the Public in general.
F. C. Calvert's Phenyline & Tarcolinum Sheep Salve
This new preparation therein specifies have enjoyed in England on account of their extraordinary success in all cases where they have been applied, has induced the proprietors to introduce them in this market, on account of the immense sheep farming interest of the country. To enable sheep-farmers to obviate in future the enormous losses they sustain yearly, not only in the deterioration of the Sheep, but also, as frequently happens, the loss of the animal itself. It is a powerful antiseptic, and he only asks a fair trial, feeling confident of the result. The following is a list of some of the uses to which these antiseptics may be applied—
In Sheep—To cure maggots foot-rot, scab, lice, tick.
In Horses—Sunkor to the fore, grease, quitter, all sugrunous wounds or ulcers, cracked heels, mange, &c.
In Cows; distemper, on Fall diseases of the hoofs.
For wounds or bruises resulting from accident and for all general Veterinary purposes these preparations have no equal. Their use is found to be remarkably successful in the Hospitals in England for curb; purposes they have been used for preserving lider, skins and bones from all vermin and insects, the parcels already forwarded to this city and Montevideo have invited the approval of purchasers in England who report them to be perfectly sound and correct. The latter name from the elder is also declared to be superior in every respect.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1863.

PARLIAMENTARY RECORD.

We have so many places of amusement in this city that probably a stranger finds a difficulty in discovering which gives the best value. Considering that there is always free admission to Congress, and that the Head Office rises each with closed doors, we doubt if, for any one who understands Spanish, there is a more entertaining place in this city than the House of Congress. The variety of matters before the house, the free and easy style of eloquence, and the amusing absurdities too frequently resorted to, to convince an over-credulous body of men, must, to a European, be highly entertaining. The business before the house for the last few days has been interesting in the extreme as both of the subjects under discussion were of any peculiarly intrinsic importance, but the queer ideas, strange notions, and heterogeneous logic brought to bear on the matters at issue, have such a touch of Argentine originality that we think the scene is appropriate name we can give the Parliamentary edifice in this city is "Old Fellow's Hall."

Both houses met now on the same day—the Senators first, then the Deputies. No smoking is allowed whilst the house is sitting.

On Thursday, as soon as the Vice-President had taken the chair, business began.

First came the new project respecting the public credit, on the Baron Maua's plan.

Then the President's request for a quarter of a million for subvention purposes; and then a wad of sundry documents sent up from the Deputies.

Dr. Alsina, in sight of so much business, thought the best thing would be to take up the reports from the committees first, and the house fully agreed with the learned Senator.

Dr. Irigoyen's claim was then taken up. It had been first sent to the President, by him to Congress, by Congress to the Committee, by them back again to Congress, and now, after a very slight discussion, Congress sent it back to the President to arrange as best he could with the Doctor.

Dr. Barcena's petition for leave of absence next came up, and was, as a matter of course, at once granted.

Dr. Alsina then stated that another thing, there was a bit of a note from the President asking for a quarter of a million of dollars, and that he (Dr. A.) thought that the matter had better be discussed at once, and not sent to the committee, for fear it should meet the fate of Dr. Brougne's petition.

Every member present agreed with Dr. A.

Dr. Laspiur requested the members to adjourn for a few minutes, to which all agreed.

After a little while they all came back, and, resuming their seats, the subvention question was taken up, Sr. Gonzales stating that this was the best we could do for the present, after taking away their custom-houses.

Srs. Fitero, Elias, and others made some slight discussion, and then the matter was put to the vote and carried, the President being authorised to receive $600,00 silver, to pay away to the provinces. Then the senate took up the question respecting the decimal calculation in weights and measures which was reformed in the Deputies. Dr. Alsina demanded that as it was a "weighty" subject, the house should insist on its decision, and the members, as a matter of course, did so.

THEN CAME THE DEPUTIES.

Sr. Uriburu in the chair.

The business of the day was at once commenced.

1st. A note from the President of the Senate, accompanying the sum of 1, million afs (not much this lower Plata)

2nd. A message, stating that the Senate insisted unanimously on the article introduced in the decima question.

Sr Obligado presented the following project—

1st. That the National Ministers receive salaries only 6000 patacones per annum.

2nd. The salaries of senators and deputies shall be 3000 dollars, with a deduction scale.

3d. The salaries of the Judges of the Federal Supreme Court and the Attorney-General, shall be 5500 dollars each.

The project was at once sent to committee.

Sr Garcia tried to get up a little discussion on the decimal system, and called attention to the conduct of the Senate. But at once to the vote, and then out by 34 to 1.

Sr Orono's frontier project then came on

The Minister of War stated that Pannero was doing his best outside, and he did not think there was any necessity for the project

Sr Alsina did not know what to say, yet wished to make some remarks; he would, therefore, request from the Minister a straightforward answer to a simple question. Was the project good or bad? The Minister stated that the idea was a capital one, but altogether premature. Dr. Alsina could not see the Minister's objections

Sr Gelly, warming a little at the obtuseness of the member, and the inconvenience of not having the young farmers of soldiers, tried to explain himself

Sr Orono then explained the project, and all agreed that they fully understood what they were discussing.

Sr Marmoo then addressed the house, and attacked the project, and with his accustomed ability endeavored to show the absurdity of moving the frontier, or giving land to soldiers.

House adjourned for a few minutes)

When the members were taking their seats, Sr Zuviria supported the project. Several members spoke to the question, but we have given by way whether pro or con, owing to the ambiguity of style. At last the Deputy of most weight in the house, Sr Calvari, gave his opinion, and it was decisive.

As a matter of course, the Orono project was thrown out by 18 to 4

Then the house adjourned.

THE NEW WATER-SUPPLY.

Lovers of clean water and good health will be glad to read the particulars of Messrs. Easton Amos' project to lay down pipes through the city; we earnestly hope it will be carried out.

It is proposed to take the water from the River Plate, we believe in the vicinity of the Gas Company's works, by means of two powerful Arnold steam engines, to a height of fifteen yards over the city, each engine giving 20,000 pipes daily. There will be three reservoirs, provided with filters, each of which will be able to purify 25,000 pipes of water in the twenty-four. Well engines will force the water from the reservoirs through the city pipes. A cistern containing 60,000 gallons will be placed at an elevation of 64 feet over the town.

The water-supply will be laid down for 320 blocks, in pipes varying from 12 inches to 4 inches, for a total of 49 miles in length. At each street corner will be a fire-plug communicating with the pipes.

The total cost is set down at £102,000, payable either in cash or in 7per cent Municipal Bonds issued for the purpose, with interest to be liquidated every half year in a London banking house; one-tenth of the whole sum to be paid down in eight months' time, and the rest in proportion as the works progress. Messrs. Easton, Amos & Co engage to commence the works within six months, and conclude them in two years from that date, giving a guarantee of £20,000, and requiring the free use of all materials, and quick delivery of necessary lands for their construction.

The annual expenditure consisting of wages, repairs, &c., will be only £3,000. Interest on cost of construction, £7,140. Sinking fund at 2 per cent, £2,040. Management charges, £2,220—making a total of £15,000. Mr. Coghlan computes the number of houses at 8000, by taking one of which at $25 per month the whole amount would be covered.

Messrs Easton and Amos have a letter of recommendation from the Government bankers in London, Baring bros. We attach more importance to the 1st of 18 cases in England which they have successfully furnished with water-supply, including Portsmouth and Brighton, the latter containing the same number of inhabitants as Buenos Ayres (140,000)

The realization of this project would confer a great boon on the city, at a very trifling annual obligation; but, as Dr. Alsina has said to us, "it is not advisable to get up drainage and street paving enterprises. It will be necessary to tear up each emanzana," leaving lawn in ruins, and the three projects will cost, comparatively, little more than one, while elevating B. Ayres from its present municipal barbarism to the condition of a second-class European capital, like Dublin or Brussels.

THE SUBSIDIES.

As a matter of course Congress has acceded to the President's request, and granted the 20,000 silver dollars, for the purpose of subsidizing the provinces. We read in one of the native papers a remark, that as these provinces have surrendered their custom-houses to the National Government it is not right they should receive an equivalent. It is to be surmised therefore that every province in the Confederation has a custom house, which we deny, or if they had, it would be something like the man who let an excellent pump but no water. Custom-houses without goods is a dogma, would really be what we call an Argentine institution, it is the greatest pity that some foreigners cannot manage to get a seat in Congress, and in a Parliamentary way show up some of our political monstrosities. To Entre Rios and a few other provinces which have really lost by the new order of things, it may be right and proper to make some remuneration, but for the others, if they want to have governors and ministers, clerks, deputies, and senators, they should at least be made to support them themselves. All these small provinces we expect, should be governed as the territories in the United States: then we should have less revolution, less constitution, but more liberty. Voting away public money for the purpose of supporting these small-fry administrations is nothing more nor less than pilfering the national exchequer. Any one who has read of the revolution of Corporal Stack, or in fact the history of these impoverished countries, for the last twelve months, cannot fail to see that all our troubles in the interior arise from the multiplicity of our Governments, and the constant shifting of provincial interests more than from the revolutionary tendencies of the inhabitants. Notwithstanding that a quarter of a million has just been voted away, the nuisance. When that quarter of a million goes up into the interior it will only serve to encourage the lawless clerks element and the people poorer and more discontented.

250,000 dollars spent in subsidizing labour and industry, in making cotton and planting sugar-cane would, we think, would be a far better investment, than in filling the pockets of all the needy politicians in the provinces. Not one man in fifty knows what the Subvention Bill or President Mitre his proper answer, when applying for a quarter of a million of money to provide for the potuate what we regret to say is the greatest of Argentine nuisances—nincompoop governments.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We read in the native papers that a capitalist, resident in the parish of Montserrat, has declared his intention of giving $500,000 towards the completion of that church. This is the first instance of Argentine public spirit we have seen, and deserves imitation. It reminds us of a poor Irishman, with only one flock of sheep, who gave $5000 for the building of Catholic Church.

A member of the extensive Gowland family has drawn the lucrative prize of $150,000 in last monthly lottery.

We have to sincerely congratulate him, and will try our fortune next time, although, in theory, the game is highly immoral.

Lucas Moreno's corps in the Oriental army has just been furnished with Minie rifles, presented by the foreign residents. Mr. Beare, however, colipers them, proposing to arm his tractions-engines, for the interior, with machines which will fire 1,000 shots per minute.

We believe the Americans have railway cannon, but this new arm will beyet more terrible to the Charlo and his friends.

It is really disgraceful to B. Ayres that the ruffians convicted of murdering the alcalde in a house of ill fame, have had their sentences of four years penal servitude commuted to six months' imprisonment. Gallardo's town from Buenos Ayres, on special errand, to reach the Moron people now to manage the hustings. One of the greatest humbugs in republics is the citizens' voting and electioneering it has proved the success of it, and of in the United States: in this country it is an unmeaning formula, as half the people vote who don't know read, whom they are voting for.

Splendid Camacha Scheme.

Canuel, Sept. 4, 1863.

The fall of rain here has increased the pasture fully an inch, and the crops have now all the appearance of spring, doing away with the daily reports of cattle dying.

The repairs of the church have reached a position ready to receive the iron girders for the roof, and the mixture is composed of a better lime, with Roman cement.

The manner in which it is proposed to raise funds to defray this accidental expense, is worthy of remark. Each sacramento of the Partido shut up strange cattle, and recover a fine of 10 dols. thereby being enabled to procure the materials, and to commence the pasture, so much wanted in the past epidemic.

ZAMONI.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, Thursday Morning.—The assizes are going on this week in several of the counties, but save that one case in Longford, the c ins as yet been no capital conviction, in fact, with all the deep distress, there is, no doubt, a great reluctance to take life, an almost total absence of serious crime in the country.

The weather is all that could be desired, high temperature and showers alternating, and the reports from the provinces give high hope of what has been so rare for the past few years, but which would now be so providential a boon—a bountiful harvest.

The Polish lecture and the meeting last week in the Rotundo were a decided success. In point of numbers and general respectability there has been no such meeting in Dublin for the last ten years The Polish Committee of Ireland, appointed that evening, held their first meeting on Tuesday, in Fogy's Hotel, Mr. M'Swiney, Lord Mayor elect, in the Chair, at which subscription amounting to £200 were received, The Committee, which is composed of some of the leading men of the city, elected and by acclamation, the present funds to the Central Committee in Paris, at the head of which is Prince Ladislas Czartoryski.

Postal Reform.

Gentlemen—I think the delivery of letters ought be greatly facilitated by the following simple arrangement, viz: let Mr. Peendas request all persons having boxes to tell their correspondents to put in the left hand corner of their letters the number of said box, which would be far easier to read than number than an address. In many cases where letters are addressed to persons of the same name, such letters frequently find their way into the wrong box—I know I have often felt this inconvenience; now by the above simple arrangement this annoyance would be easily avoided. If you think the suggestion worth noticing, you might, through the columns of your paper, draw attention to the proposition to our worthy Post-master.

The Invasion of the Crimea.

By Wm. Alexander Kinglake.

Mr. Kinglake occupies a peculiar position in our literature. Almost twenty years ago he produced "Eothen," a book of brilliant sketches of travel in the East. Its success was so marked that the author seemed to be afraid of his own popularity and with the exception of an occasional review article, he wrote nothing more. Meanwhile he again travelled extensively in the East, was for a time, as a spectator, with the French army in Algeria, and subsequently with the British forces in Crimea. In some years it has been known that he was engaged in writing the history of that campaign, and we have been so long delayed that it was feared that fastidiousness which prevented him from following up the success of Eothen would prevent the execution of the design. But the first instalment, comprising half of the work, has at length made its appearance, and we have reason to congratulate ourselves upon the delay. In these days of hasty, careless writing, it is something to have a work every sentence of which has been carefully considered. Mr. Kinglake's style is a model. Less pointed and epigrammatic than that of Macaulay, it is in many other respects superior to that of the great master of English prose. If in us has taken a large canvas, it is because he has a great picture to paint. He had to describe not merely a few brilliant battles, but to unravel schemes of tortuous policy, in which the chief actors were moved by conflicting motives. He had to describe Turkey, apparently in the last stages of existence, and all the Great Powers of Europe watching for the effects of the sick man, each determined that no other should get more than its due share. He had to trace the strange career of the man who, with no apparent endowment except the name which he bore, managed to keep himself upon an equality with the sovereign in whose service he had only three years before carried a cable as special policeman, and to humble the haughty potentates who had recently refused to recognise him as a "brother." He had to show how it happened that such a question as unimportant as whether the Latin Church should be allowed to have a key to the door of a single place of worship, a war sprung up which in a few months cost the lives of a million men.—Harper's Magazine.

LOCAL EVENTS.

THE DIFFICULTY WITH BRAZIL

—In the House of Lords, on the motion of Lord Stratford called attention to the assessment by the Queen's Advocate of the damages to be paid by the Brazilian Government for the alleged wrecking of the Prince of Wales. The amount was £32:0, and it continued an item of £3410 for "compensation to the Bishop" directed to this item, and complained that the Brazilian Minister did not know when he had the money that the total sum amounted that item.—Lord Russell explained the assessment.—A discussion arose, in the course of which Earl Russell stated that he had heard that the King of Portugal intended to bring about a resumption of diplomatic relations between this country and Brazil.

A MISER OF PINS.—In the Rue du Bac there died, some time since, about forty years of age, the Baron de Savres, a gentleman who had devoted nearly all his life to a very extraordinary pursuit, the excitement of which is said to have driven him to an untimely grave. Amongst the property he left were found two large and heavy boxes which he had taken pains strapped to contain cash, but turned out to be filled with hundreds of thousands of all imaginable kinds of pins. A gentleman of some degree of noble appearance we pointed out to us, whose curious way of walking had attracted our notice, as the result of these pins. He was walking along one of the roads of the Bois de Boulogne, with his head bent, his eyes restlessly searching the ground, and every now and then stooping down as if to pick up something. We then learned that, for the last twenty years, his regular habit had been to walk about the most frequented streets and places of public resort, and to pick up any pins he discovered on the ground, for which purpose a particularly carefulness, had gradually become the dominating passion of his life. He has been noticed very frequently in the Champs Elysees at theatres, hardly looking for a moment at the stage; still more frequently he was seen searching the lobbies leading to the boxes at the Opera-house and Italian Concert-rooms formed his principal attraction; but he's richest harvest, he confessed, were the numerous pins to be found in the streets, of course, were regularly attended by the curious specimen of human eccentricity.

NEW LAWS.—There are so many new laws now passed that it would require some half a dozen of us to publish them all. We purpose giving a review of all these as they when once passed.

PROGRESO BALL.—The truth, they say at home, "don't dance," but on the tenth, we suppose, there will be a great deal of dancing at the Progreso ball—all the girls in town are busy buying their dresses, &c. The ball on us will be decorated, and we intend to make it true Parisian style.

MONTEVIDEAN BANQUET.—We hear all sorts of rumours, respecting the toasts at the French, Italian, and Spanish diplomatic banquet. Our colleagues, very properly, do not publish what transpired.

SERVANTS' LICENSE.—The Municipality decrees that henceforward all servants male or female, in the employ of any shall take out a pass book in the police.

CHASCOMUS.—We are glad to learn that the Scotch residents of this district have already purchased the site for a chapel, that of the Anglo-Saxons will shortly follow. The wants of the community. The house presented to their esteemed pastor, Rev. Mr. Ferguson, cost to a sum of $70,000 m/n.

GENERAL FORET, the French Commander-in-Chief, has recently published a decree in the Mexican 'Moniteur' which has attracted attention, and excites a good deal of dissatisfaction in financial circles in London. It prohibits, until further notice, the exportation of gold and silver specie and bullion from all the Mexican ports under the control of the French. The object of the measure is said to be to facilitate the provision of supplies for the French army, and to induce the merchants and others who have remittances to make to Europe to do so through the medium of French bills, instead of specie. It is said that the troops have suffered inconvenience through the price of dollars being raised against them. From the prohibition, however, is expressly excepted such remittances as may be made by the Consuls on account of the claims of the convention creditors, including, it is understood, the bondholders. The prohibition will be the less operative because only a portion of the country is as yet in the possession of the French, yet an advance in the price of dollars here seems to be looked for a consequence.

SAN ISIDRO.—The earthworks of the Northern Railway have nearly passed this village, and we understand the operation of laying down rails between this station and Los Olivos will be finished in a few days.

'I'M THE BAGGAGE'—As the midday Worcester train was about leaving the depot, a man of the Johnsonian type entered one of the cars, and gruffly requested that two young ladies occupying separate seats should sit together, that he and his friend might enjoy a tete-a-tete on the other seat. 'But,' said one of the damsels, blushing, 'this seat is engaged.' 'Engaged, is it?' brusquely responded the man, 'who engaged it? 'A young man,' said the conscious maiden. 'His young man, eh; where's his baggage?' persisted Dra. Major. 'I'm his baggage, Old Hatchet,' replied the distance damsel, putting her rosy lips into the prettiest pout. 'Old Hatchet' subsided; the young man came in, extended his arms protestingly, almost carelessly, around his 'baggage,' and Mr. Conductor Capon started the train.

ON 'CHANGE,

Sept. 4.

Ounces opened at 442, and kept ascending the entire day, closing firm at 446 buyers. In the liquidation room we hear 447 was paid. Coals sales 3207.

On 'Change to-day there was considerable excitement, not so much at the sudden rise in ounces, as at the extraordinary rumours circulated respecting Entre Rios. The whole atmosphere of the Bolsa to-day was revolutionary. It is said that three or four parties in town are in possession of some most important Entre Riano secret, and are buying ounces right and left. A few wide awake parties detected this going on, and by digging the whole play transpired, then every one followed suit; and, in fact, the difficulty to-day was to find sellers, not buyers.

It will be seen, by looking over the time sales, that ounces sell almost at the same price for fifteen days as for cash, and for the end of the year a sale was made to-day at 436, which is 10 dollars dearer than what they sold last week for the same period

It is idle to attempt to conceal that the public confidence is most seriously disturbed. A few months before and there was as little semblance of a revolution in the Argentine Republic as to-day, and yet who know what occurred in a few short months. Time is the best of all fortune tellers. It is the conviction of some of the most experienced merchants, that, under conditions, respecting this Entre Rianasion, will yet prove too true.

A certain large house explained it is said is buying ounces, and many parties believe that this person is in possession of the great Entre Rianosecret. An English gentleman, just from the Uruguay, that Lamas has had repeated interviews with Urquiza. We refrain from giving publicity to all his statements, as we regard them premature, but it is generally believed that Urquiza's son has passed over and is now at the head of a large body of men. The future of this country depends more upon the action of Congress this session than what could be willing to admit. We perceive an effort to procrastinate the settlement of the floating debt question, which if successful will inevitably lead to consequence which we would fain shut our eyes to. Although the whole debt is trifling, yet owing to the impoverished state of the country it is of the last importance to the holders. If the Government seeks to restore confidence and to adopt the only safe method of securing a permanent peace, it will take good care that all these claims are settled, and no room is left for such well founded complaints as that of Sr. Lamas.
